

Attend Whatcom Community College's

CYBERSECURITY CAMP

For Whatcom County high school juniors and seniors who want to explore information security, a growing, high demand field in the U.S. and worldwide.

Learn through hands-on computer activities how cybersecurity professionals help protect information and information systems from unauthorized access, misuse, and destruction.

Apply early! The application is free but enrollment is limited. A small registration fee is required for students accepted into the program (see application details at the URL below). The application deadline is Thursday, October 31, 2013.

Why attend? Each camp is made up of six interactive sessions. Successfully complete all six sessions and you can:

- ▶ Earn a $200 stipend
- ▶ Apply for credit for CIS 110 (Introduction to Security), a 3-credit core course in the Computer Information Systems program at WCC
- ▶ Meet with business and industry leaders in the technology field
- ▶ Learn about exciting career and educational opportunities in cybersecurity

Winter 2014 Camp Session Dates

Saturdays, January 11, 25, February 1, 8, 22, and March 1
